

NEWS RELEASE

September 1, 2010
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Melody Klemin,
Marketing & Outreach Coordinator
Office: (805) 756-7223
Fax: (805) 756-6088
Email: mrklemin@calpoly.edu

BRAVOSLO! FREE PERFORMING ARTS SHOWCASE

SAN LUIS OBISPO – Back by popular demand, the Performing Arts Center, San Luis Obispo is offering a preview of its upcoming season at BravoSLO! 2010, a free arts showcase featuring more than 20 organizations that perform at the Cohan Center and Spanos Theatre throughout the year. On Saturday, September 25, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. the PAC invites you to enjoy mini performances all day in Harman Hall and the Pavilion, talk to participating performance groups at their lobby exhibits, and pick up information about their upcoming seasons– all for free!

In addition to enjoying instrumental and choral ensembles, dance groups, film shorts, and the Forbes Pipe Organ, attendees will be eligible to win from a fantastic assortment of door prizes and sample premiere local wines. Door Prizes include free tickets to a variety of upcoming performances, gift certificates to restaurants, luxurious gift baskets, dance classes, VIP backstage tours, access to special red carpet events, and more!

At a time when everyone is concerned about spending money, the Performing Arts Center's goal is to connect potential audiences with performance groups in the most effective, fun and economical way possible. BravoSLO! 2010 hopes to accomplish exactly that, and there's something for everyone! Bring friends and come be part of the excitement!

To learn more about BravoSLO!, presented by the Performing Arts Center and the Foundation for the Performing Arts Center, visit pacslo.org. For additional information about the event, please contact Melody Klemin at (805) 756-7223 or mrklemin@calpoly.edu.